MEMORANDUM FOR: Senior Interagency Group-Intelligence

FROM: Lieutenant General Edward J. Heinz, USAF
Director, Intelligence Community Staff

SUBJECT: Embassy Security and Community Coordination

STAT

1. Developments resulting from the espionage and security investigations of Sergeant Clayton Lonetree, USMC, et al, will continue to have high public and official impact. Thorough analysis and subsequent strengthening of our security procedures and policies, as well as periodic reporting to Congressional oversight bodies, are indicated follow-on steps. Individual agency/departments interests in rapidly developing findings and solutions are obvious. The Acting Chairman of the SIG-I has asked, however, that equal emphasis be given to the requirement for maintaining an especially high degree of cooperation and consultation among those elements of the Intelligence Community that have direct interests.

2. During the past year, the Community has had some success in promoting its view that counterintelligence and security countermeasure matters are best managed without a single, central "czar." Community reaction to the Lonetree, et al/security compromise situation can provide a current yardstick against which that view might be measured. Addressees are, therefore, requested to give personal attention to ensuring the full and timely use of existing and other specifically established systems for maintaining thorough mutual awareness, obtaining such agreement as may appear useful, orchestrating policy arrangements, and determining future actions.

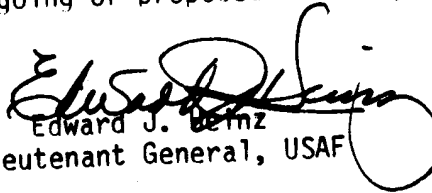

3. It is particularly desirable that proposed written and oral statements concerning analysis of or modification stemming from the current situation benefit from review by appropriate Community elements before providing them to Congress. Accordingly, addressees are also encouraged to consider an expeditious exchange of such information proposed for release to Congress.

4. The Intelligence Community Staff is available to facilitate and support any aspect of the information/coordination process. The point of contact for assistance of any kind, as required, is Director, Community Counterintelligence and Security Countermeasures Staff,
